

2/10/16

Present: Robert Schulz, Jane Nuse, Jeanne Engel, Jessica Bickford, Stacey Waterman
Guest: Howard Romero

Howard Romero led a discussion about his own experience with flood proofing a basement. He reported that he used a company in New York State who make steel frame doors with rubberized edges which can be quickly installed at the first notice of an impending flood situation. Much discussion ensued as to ideas about what the library might need to be fully, or close to fully flood proof. Robert stated that we should probably speak with contractors or those who would best know how to head up such a project. Jeanne stated she would also ask her son about the company he works for and we should also speak with local contractors about the excavation work that might be needed as part of the flood proof process. Jeanne also discussed applying for a State grant to help pay for such an endeavor.

Minutes of last meeting were approved and seconded.

Jeanne reported on obtaining shades for the rest of the main room windows. The question is where to get them. Jeanne reports she may go to Lowes to see if they have what we need. The two big windows may need shades custom made if Lowes does not have shades that large.

Becca is getting started with regular posts on FPF.

Stacey passed out the budget. She reports the figures in the Town Report look good.

Stacey also reports that she is still looking for the historical document needed by the VT Dept. of Libraries. We need the Town Report from 1895. Jeanne says that they may have that at the Town Clerk's Office.

Next meeting is April 13.
